Reading Group Choices, a leading developer of resources to enhance reading group experiences, today announced the publication of Reading Group Choices 2008.

The guide, in its 14th edition, includes over 60 new titles for recommended reading and book group discussion. Titles by such reading group favorite authors as Chris Bohjalian, Tracy Chevalier, Elinor Lipman, and Sena Jeter Naslund, as well as, work from debut authors have been selected for inclusion in Reading Group Choices 2008.

Reading Group Choices annual print edition and Web site afford reading groups the opportunity to make informed choices for their book selections, and the Conversation Starters are a great resource in eliciting and maintaining interesting and lively discussions, says Jill A. Tardiff, Women's National Book Association, National Reading Group Month Committee Chair and Immediate Past President. This is the next best thing to having your own professional facilitator, librarian or bookseller as a part of your reading group highly recommended. A fun and wonderful experience in and of itself.

This year's collection of Reading Group Choices has been released in the same month as the launch of National Reading Group Month (NRGM) and will be distributed at the kick-off event in New York on October 29th. NRGM will be launched in honor of the 90th anniversary of the founding of The Women's National Book Association (WNBA), a group that has promoted reading and supported the role of women in the community of the book.

We're excited by the high caliber of books included in this year's guide and believe that the book clubs, book stores and librarians who use it as a reference will be pleased with the vast range of subject matter and discussable topics found in these titles, said Barbara Drummond Mead, President of Reading Group Choices. We're also proud to be launching our latest edition in concert with the 90th anniversary of WNBA and the launch of NRGM. WNBA has done a great job over the years of reinforcing the value and importance of the written word.
